The Live Leaderboard that creates the excitement of The Open or The Masters for amateur tournaments & competitions

Golf events can be extended beyond the tournament participants to their friends, family and colleagues

GolfAppLive increases the excitement of a tournament or competition to the participants by providing a live leaderboard. It also extends the whole experience beyond those playing in it. Now non-participants, friends, family, colleagues and co-workers can be invited to join in the event underway at the club. GolfAppLive is designed for clubs, associations, societies, companies, charities and educational bodies organizing golf competitions or tournaments to capture players' scores around the course on smart phones or tablets so that a "live" leaderboard can be provided - on the smart phone or tablet and back in the clubhouse on big TV screens.

It's simple for competition organizers and participants to use irrespective of their technical experience. Instant results can be linked to websites, social media sites and email. Organizers can email results and statistics to participants so that a record of their experience on the course can be retained.

The Administration screen provides all the controls necessary to quickly and easily set-up and manage a tournament. The categories need to be completed with information relevant to the competition.

Benefits to Tournament or Competition Administrators

- The administration screens for setting up courses, competitions and the tournament itself are very easy to use.
- Modification of the competition or tournament details during the day of the event is simple; capabilities include add/delete and overall management of players details, tee off times and scores.
- The processes for tournament and competition set-up are streamlined to minimize overall set-up time and results finalization.
- The stress involved in organizing and administering a tournament or competition is practically eliminated by providing a framework to set it up, run and finalize the details of the whole event.

There are options to include Nearest the Pin and Longest Drive holes and an option for the Administrator to hide four holes to partially withhold the final results from the participants, if appropriate to the event. If required, some team names can be created.

- If the organizers decide that they only want the scores entered at the end of the competition or tournament then this can be achieved using official scorers to enter the scorecards on tablets at the end of the event.
- Results and statistics can be emailed to participants so that they can retain a record of their experience on the course.
- No limits on the number of competitors or competition formats with instant calculations on a number of permutations including percentage handicap reductions depending on format (singles, pairs or teams).

The course guide can provide a hole by hole guide (including a web link to an overview hole picture plus text for each hole) via the guide button.

	Item	Details
Edit	Hole Guide Name	Knighton Heath
	Image Uri Hole 1	http://www.knightonheathgolfclub.co.uk/hole_1.html#
	Guide Text Hole 1	This appears to be a straightforward opening hole but with the fairway bunker ready to swallow up your tee shot, out of bounds on the left and a well-guarded green it is not as easy as it seems.
	Image Uri Hole 2	http://www.knightonheathgolfclub.co.uk/hole_2.html#
	Guide Text Hole 2	This hole has a sharp dogleg left, from the tee you can be brave, take on the trees and heather on the left and have a short iron into the green. Alternately, be cautious, play straight and have a longer shot into the green, which is well protected by bunkers and trees.

- Records for all tournament attendees and members of clubs and societies are up to date.
- Maximize the branding of the sponsoring the event by using logos, images and online advertising on the scoring devices and the leaderboard.
- Make the event you are organizing a cut above other events that don't offer a live leaderboard and create an even more memorable occasion.
